A MAN who subjected members of the public to threats and violence during a "horrific" evening rampage has been jailed.

Thomas Lamb, 32, of no fixed abode, was jailed for eight years at Cambridge Crown Court after pleading guilty to a string of offences.

The court was told that on December 16, 2016, Lamb was with co-defendant Albert Smith when, armed with a knife, he forced his way into a property on Six Mile Bottom Road in West Wratting and threatened the owner.

The pair left empty handed and went next door where they threatened the occupant with a Stanley knife, before hitting him over the head with a wine bottle.

They drove off in their victim's Vauxhall Corsa.

The pair went on to crash the Corsa on Weston Colville Road and tried to steal a Toyota before they were picked up in a Transit van, the court was told.

Both men were later arrested in Caxton, during which time Lamb spat at a police officer.

Lamb was charged with robbery, attempted robbery, aggravated taking a vehicle without consent, driving while disqualified and without insurance, actual bodily harm, possession of a bladed article, attempted theft of a vehicle and assaulting a police officer.

He was jailed for a total of eight years and disqualified from driving for seven years and eight months.

His accomplice, Smith, of Weirs Drove, Burwell, was jailed for 12 months after pleading guilty to robbery, attempted robbery, aggravated taking a vehicle without consent, driving without insurance, actual bodily harm, possession of a bladed article,

TREATS: Cllr Terry Clements joins in the fun

Special guest drops in at nursery

STEPPING Stones nursery welcomed St Edmundsbury deputy mayor Cllr Terry Clements to celebrate Easter at the weekend.

The festivities saw 36 children and 25 parents take part in an Easter egg treasure hunt on Sunday.

The trail of clues led them from Coups Academy in Haverhill, where the nursery is based, down to East Town Park and then back.

Once back in the nursery, the children were all rewarded with a chocolate Easter egg.

A raffle was also held which raised more than £100 for the pre-school.

Police team up for day-long op

TWO men were arrested on suspicion of drug driving yesterday after a massive road policing operation in Haverhill.

The aim of the day-long operation was to disrupt criminal activity, catch people committing driving offences and removing unsafe vehicles from the road.

The mammoth multi-agency operation took place at Meadows car park in Ehringshausen Way and officers conducted fuel tests, drug checks and vehicle examinations.

Sgt Julian Ditcham, from the roads policing unit who led the operation, said: "These proactive days of action are a great example of multi-agency working, where partner agencies come together with the aim of enforcement and education.

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach\_mc94CN

"Our operation was intended to target individuals who use our country's roads to commit crime and those who drive unsafe vehicles."

During the operation seven vehicles were seized because drivers had no insurance or for licence offences, 11 vehicles were issued with immediate prohibitions by the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency for no insurance or licence offences, three vehicles received delayed prohibitions under the proviso that defects were fixed as soon as possible and 19 advisory notes were handed out.

In total, 36 various offences were committed including eight counts of driving without insurance, nine cases of driving without an MOT, one count of driving with no licence, three registration plate offences and four for not wearing a seat-belts.

Officers from the Scorpion teams, the local Safer Neighbourhood Team, specialist operations, including Suffolk and Norfolk Roads Policing and Firearms Operation Unit, the dog unit, the multi-agency safeguarding hub and the drugs team partnered up with the Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency, HM Revenue and Customs fuel testing and Suffolk Roadsafes for the day.

Exciting times for Reach

HAVERHILL foodbank and debt advisory service Reach has officially launched as a separate charity after 10 years as part of the River of Life Community Church.

The group held a party for the volunteer team at Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday where people shared their memories of the organisation.

Projects director Henry Wilson said: "It's been an amazing journey so far, and thanks to the amazing support from the community over the first 11.5 years of Reach this means we've fed over 10,000 people through the foodbank and seen more than 12,000 visitors at the resource centre."

"We are continuing to tackle poverty in and around Haverhill at our resource centre as well as reaching out into the community to those who can't make it into us. We're very much looking forward to the future with a great team. It's exciting times ahead!"

CHARITY PARTY: The Reach team enjoy afternoon tea as they look to the future.

theft and attempted theft of a vehicle.

The 21-year-old was also disqualified from driving for a year.

Speaking after the court case, Detective Sergeant Andy Denzey told the News: "This was a horrific crime. The level of force used was excessive and this is reflected in the length of the sentence that Lamb was given."

"Lamb was clearly the driving force in this incident, with Smith playing a lesser role."

"This sentence will ensure that Lamb cannot hurt anyone else in the community for many years to come."

COMMUNITY

Autism group in vow to continue

HAVERHILL Autism Support Group has vowed to carry on despite the closure of its support arm, Autism Suffolk.

Autism Suffolk officially closed last Friday after losing its funding and failing to secure more money.

Pat Hanlon, who will be in charge of the Haverhill group, said: "People with autism and especially high functioning autism have to fight for everything."

"It's a real shame but we're still going. It not only affects the person but the whole family."

"It's like all the councils are just cutting, cutting, cutting, government is cutting their money. It's all these vulnerable people who are losing out."

Autism Suffolk was responsible for booking meeting spaces and arranging visiting speakers for the support network.

It was originally set up by the National Autistic Society with funding from central government. Suffolk County Council then took on the full funding but gradually withdrew its contribution from 2014 and the organisation closed entirely last Friday.

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

Helena Bateman, branches and community manager for the National Autistic Society, said: "We know how much local families valued Autism Suffolk and how concerned people have been about alternative support following its closure. So, we're pleased to see that the Haverhill Autism Support Group is continuing to meet and provide a point of contact for local families and carers."

"We were very sorry to see Autism Suffolk close after 13 years."

"It's fantastic to see families and local organisations mobilising to continue to provide support. We'd be very happy to talk to the Haverhill group to see if there was a useful way to link them into our charity's network of volunteer-led branches and groups."

"Our local branches already work with many autistic children, adults and their families in the area."

The National Autistic Society announced in 2016 it was keeping open the Autism Suffolk Facebook page in an attempt to minimise the impact of the closure with the help of Ipswich-based Suffolk Autism services.

Mr Hanlon, who also serves as a town councillor for Haverhill, said the group would hopefully offer the parents and carers of children with autism a chance to support each other.

He said: "We're meeting to keep offering support. They are fighting for education, care and health plans, fighting to get that as a statement so they can go to special schools or main stream. They need that so they can get help in school."

The Haverhill autism group will meet at the Chex cafe in the Chalkstone Community Centre every second Thursday of the month between 12.30pm and 2.30pm starting from May 11.

ACCIDENT

Woman cut free from car

A WOMAN had to be cut free by firefighters after a two-car crash in Haverhill on Monday.

The crash closed Watting Road for an hour-and-a-half causing delays to traffic.

The woman, believed to be in her 50s or 60s, was taken to West Suffolk Hospital with a suspected neck injury and back pain.

A spokesman for Suffolk Fire and Rescue said: "We had a call at 4.05pm.

"There was a woman trapped in a vehicle so the fire team used hydraulic cutting gear to release her. The roof of the car was taken off."

A spokeswoman for Suffolk police said fire and ambulance services were called after the crash between a Vauxhall Agila and a Fiat Grande Punto, on Watting Road, 400 yards from the Tesco superstore at 3.45pm.

The crash closed the road from 3.45pm until 5.24pm.

Candidates named for county council elections

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mcn94CN

CANDIDATES for the upcoming Suffolk County Council elections have been named.

Three divisions in the Haverhill area will be contested, Haverhill Cangle, Haverhill East and Kedington and Clare.

John Burns and Tony Brown, both UKIP councillors serving on the town, borough and county council for Haverhill, have chosen not to contest their county council seats on May 4.

Cllr Burns said his decision was for a number of reasons. He alleged there was a lack of respect for the people of Haverhill from the Suffolk County Council leadership, and also blamed cutbacks affecting vulnerable people, a lack of investment in Haverhill and West Suffolk, poor communication from the county council to elected members of the town on many subjects and personal work commitments.

He also said there was a "lack of guts to stand up to the government and say 'enough is enough'." He added: "I will be concentrating on my borough and town councillor roles where both work very well with members and officers and we can achieve a lot more locally."

Cllr Brown said that his business had suffered over his four years on the county council and that "something had to give".

He said: "It's best for residents for me not to stand. I'd rather be on borough and town councils as well as concentrating what time I have got on them."

Cllr Brown, like Cllr Burns, also cited a desire to stay on borough and town councils because they are more locally driven.

The loss of the two councillors means only one Haverhill incumbent, Julian Flood, will stand again on May 4. Clare incumbent Mary Evans is also standing for re-election.

In the Haverhill Cangle division, which has two seats, Labour candidates are David

For more election news go to cambridge-news.co.uk

Smith and former Haverhill mayor Maureen Byrne; Liberal Democrats Ken Rolph and Lewis Curtis; Conservatives Paula Fox and Quillon Fox and UKIP incumbent Julian Flood.

In the Haverhill East and Kedington division candidates are Labour's Jason Simpkin; Liberal Democrat Oliver Finder, Conservative and current Haverhill town mayor David Roach and UKIP's Anthony Williams.

There will be four candidates for the Clare seat: Labour's Robin Davies, incumbent Conservative Mary Evans; Liberal Democrat Alex Rolph and UKIP's Stuart Letten.

A by-election for Haverhill Town Council (North) will not be needed after Liz Smith, for Labour, was the only candidate.

Sign up for hospice moonlight walk

PEOPLE are being encouraged to wear pyjamas and don their bunny ears for a charity walk for St Nicholas Hospice.

The moonlight walk will take place around the streets of Bury St

Edmunds on Saturday, September 9, and registration is now open.

Now in its ninth year, all funds raised by Girls Night Out helps support patients and families in West Suffolk and Thetford.

Last year 2,104 women took part, raising £250,000 for the hospice, and this year the hope is even more will join in.

Applications are available from hospice shops or online at www.girlsnightoutwalk.co.uk

Tenfold rise in child grooming

THE number of cases of sexual grooming has risen tenfold in Suffolk over the last five years.

Between 2012 and 2016 there was a total of 53 recorded cases of sexual grooming in the county, rising from three in 2012 to 35 in 2016, according to Home Office figures.

Suffolk police have now been given new powers to tackle the rise. A new law, introduced on Monday, makes online grooming of anyone under 16 an offence, even before any meeting takes place.

The NSPCC welcomed the new law as "victory for common sense" after lobbying the government through its 'Flaw in the Law' campaign.

NSPCC chief executive Peter Wanless said: "The Justice Secretary has done the right thing.

"This is a victory for the 50,000 people who supported the NSPCC's Flaw

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

in the Law campaign. It is a victory for common sense.

"Children should be as safe online as they are offline, wherever they are in the UK. This law will give police in England and Wales the powers they need to protect children from online grooming, and to intervene sooner to stop abuse before it starts."

A Suffolk police spokesman said of the figures: "While this is a significant increase in offences, changes in legislation and National Crime Recording Standards are both likely to have impacted on this. We are now far more robust in what we record and how we record it.

"The rise in internet usage has in turn led to an increase in online crime. We continue to promote internet safety and also actively encourage people to report any offences to us and believe there is increased public confidence in doing so.

"Suffolk Police, along with our partner agencies, encourage all parents and guardians of children who use social media to foster responsible use by the child, to raise awareness of the dangers and be aware of who their child is communicating with."

Home Office figures for Suffolk reveal that the number of people meeting a child after grooming was just three between April 2011 and March 2012, for the same period in 2012-2013 there were five; 2013-2014 there were six; 2014-2015 there were four and 2015-2016 recorded 35.

Under the new offence of sexual communication with a child, groomers face up to two years in prison and will be automatically placed on the sex offenders register.

Friends are facing marathon challenge

FRIENDS for more than 20 years, Ross Standeven and Adam Bloie are running the Brighton Marathon on Sunday for Cancer Research.

Ross, from Kedington, and Adam, from Haverhill, were both inspired to fundraise after losing grandparents to cancer.

Adam lost his grandad to the disease and also has friends and family who have been affected by cancer.

Ross's grandmother died in 2010 from a brain tumour, the same year his wife had a pelvic lymphoma whilst pregnant with their son.

The duo have been training hard for the gruelling 26.2 mile course and have already raised £1,200 between them.

Donations can be made to the duo on JustGiving.

COMMUNITY

Disability group to be launched

A NEW learning disability group is set to be launched in Haverhill next week.

Lantern will offer a social space for people within the community who have learning disabilities to come together through a church-based programme.

Volunteers and friends Sarah Glasswell and Charmaine Slade have spent six months planning and organising the group for its launch next Wednesday, April 12.

Sarah said: "It's about building up community and supporting the learning disability community in a new way for Haverhill."

Sarah and Charmaine are both members of Haverhill Methodist Church and after attending a 'mission shaped ministry' course were inspired to create a group that would be accessible for those with learning difficulties.

The year-long course was about making church accessible to people who wouldn't normally go, for a variety of reasons, and the friends felt the learning disability community needed a voice.

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

Sarah, from Haverhill, said: "We both worked in the past with people with learning disabilities. I ran a group like this one in the past."

"A lot of people with learning disabilities can't read and you have to be able to, to join in songs and prayers. There's also a lot of jargon which a lot of people can't understand, I can't sometimes, so we make it more straightforward and more relaxed than a traditional church service. They can move around a bit more and make noise."

The monthly meeting will be run along the lines of a traditional church service and plans for the first session include a drama element, where people can act out a Bible story, there will also be songs and a time for people to share their own stories and difficulties.

The volunteer-run project is aiming to provide lots of different activities with singing, crafts, Bible stories, praying, drama, friendship building and refreshment breaks all planned for future meetings.

The group is also open to parents and carers but they are not required to stay and members do not need to be part of a church to attend.

The group is entirely free and will meet on the second Wednesday of every month between 7.30pm and 9pm at the Methodist Church Hall in Camps Road, opposite the recreation ground. Access is wheelchair friendly.

COURTS

'I would rather die than be extradited'

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc94CN

A SUSPECTED hacker who allegedly gained access to some of America's most sensitive websites has said he would 'rather die' than be extradited.

Lauri Love, 31, pictured above, is appealing against an extradition order to face trial in the US for allegedly hacking into the FBI, the US central bank and NASA.

Mr Love, who has Asperger's Syndrome and lives at Stradishall, said: "If there are no other options and it is a choice between being subject to the US justice system and being turned into an example or deterrent or choosing to end my own life as an alternative then I do reserve the right to do so."

He has previously said that he feared he would die in a US prison as it would be "very hard for me to imagine not being able to access information using computers".

Mr Love compared the loss of technology in his life to a condition that would limit his very existence. He said: "It would be like losing my sight if I was locked away from technology and only able to use a telephone to call my family once a week. "It is very hard for me to imagine not being able to access information using computers - that's the way I have interfaced with the world since I was able to."

Mr Love, who was first arrested at his home in 2013, said he would work with intelligence agencies to highlight "vulnerabilities" in their systems.

Mr Love said if the US authorities were interested in "actionable intelligence or vulnerabilities" then "I would want to work with them".

He said the Pentagon currently offered "bounties" to approved US citizens to find vulnerabilities.

Lawyers for Mr Love said his mental health problems meant he should not be sent abroad, but US prosecutors said that was an excuse to escape justice.

He had computer equipment seized by British police, but the UK investigation into him was dropped.

Home Secretary Amber Rudd has signed an order for the extradition process to continue.

An appeal against his extradition is expected to be heard at the High Court at a date to be confirmed.

Two homes flooded and hundreds without water

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc94CN

HUNDREDS of homes were left without water after a mains pipe burst last Friday morning.

The supply to 700 properties was cut off after water started gushing out of the main in Haverhill at 4am, flooding two homes in Cambridge Way.

Clare Reeves, who lives next to the flooded homes, said: "Water was gushing out at hundreds of litres per second. We were lucky we weren't flooded too."

"I am very lucky I wasn't one of the flooded ones. My heart goes out to our neighbours who woke up to a couple of feet of water in their homes and now have to rip up their carpets and floors."

Anglian Water told the News contract cleaners had been sent to assess the damage and a clean-up was under way at the two affected properties.

Clare said she was left without water for 28 hours while repairs were carried out.

BURST MAINS:
Anglian Water crews were on hand much of last Friday

"We could have been better assisted in getting our water supply back on, it's been such a long time," she added.

An Anglian Water spokesman said: "Unfortunately we can only apologise, we had a burst main affecting 700 properties in the area."

The spokesman added that by 9.10am only 18 properties were still waiting for their water supply to be restored and emergency plans were put in place to reconnect them as quickly as possible.

An overland temporary water main was fitted to reconnect the homes and by 7.15pm every household had their water restored.

However, Clare said she was only reconnected at about 8am on Saturday.

She said: "We couldn't shower. We couldn't even flush our toilets.

"Some of the workmen were really nice and worked hard – just wish we had been better informed really, but I suppose they were just doing their best."

Anglian Water confirmed that a plumber had been sent to Clare's home on Saturday to fix the problem and that she had been reconnected to the mains water supply.

COMMUNITY

Call for new first aiders and cadets

VOLUNTEERS and cadets are needed for St John Ambulance units in Haverhill.

The charity is trying to recruit a fresh batch of adult first aiders and young cadets to join its ranks.

No prior first aid experience is necessary and all the training would be provided by current volunteers at a weekly meeting.

Adult volunteers can expect to be proficient after a six to nine-month training period, after which they can attend community events and give life-saving treatment to members of the public.

Anyone aged 10-17 can apply to be a cadet and can work towards a Grand Prior Award, the highest achievement for cadets. There are 70 different subjects for cadets to choose from for their award.

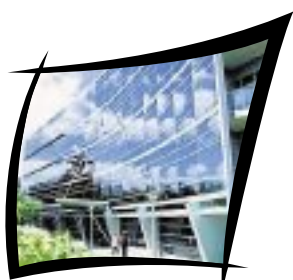

James Catchpole, area manager with responsibility for these units, said: "We're keen to hear from local people who are interested in giving up a few hours each month to volunteer with us and learn life-saving techniques."

Anyone interested can contact him at james.catchpole@sja.org.uk

Window film a clear winner for security – and protection

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

SINCE 1999, Knightly Window Films has built and maintained a reputation as the region's leading glass solution specialists. The team, led by owner Matthew Knightly, have expert knowledge of the window tinting industry, covering all aspects of the commercial window film, residential window film and automotive window film applications.

Most importantly, the team provide superb customer service and high standards of workmanship unrivalled in the local area, no matter which task is at hand. After close to eighteen years in the business, Knightly Window Films are still going strong with a high customer satisfaction rate, with customers always supplied with only the highest quality products to get the job done at an efficient rate.

Window film isn't just a fashion choice. Tinting car, conservatory or commercial building windows gives 99 per cent UV protection, as well as offering a significant heat reduction. If you have children or animals in the back seat, the benefits of window film could be lifesaving – the reduction of glare and the rejection of heat also acts as a deterrent to everything from heat rashes to skin cancer.

Not only does it block dangerous UV rays and high temperatures, window film is excellent for security. If you have young family members, tinted windows are the best way to secure their privacy – as well as acting as a deterrent to criminals, as the film is designed to be harder to break. Window film will help keep you safe and stylish.

Knightly Window Films now also offer vehicle graphics & signage, as well as state of the art new products including the Coverstyl vinyl range – a quick and easy way to renovate walls, doors and furniture, with over 500 different vinyls to choose from.

You can find Knightly Window Films at 11 Yarmouth Place, Haverhill, Suffolk, CB9 0JD. For more information, call (01440) 421 087 or (07)766023659, or visit their website, knightlywindowfilms.co.uk.

A Closer Look at . . .

Supporting our businesses

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

Buying local isn't just about supporting businesses near you and helping to boost the local economy – it's also about getting the finest products around.

If you're shopping for food, for example, fresh produce from local farmers always tastes significantly better than those shipped halfway across the country and on to supermarket shelves.

If you're interested in quality, buying local is a no brainer.

Here in Haverhill, supporting local butchers, bakers and greengrocers instead of taking a trip to the Tesco Superstore ensures that you will be tucking in to meals that have had a significantly shorter "field to fork" journey.

As well as ensuring a support for local farmers, this food is also going to be better for you – the less packaging it contains, the more nutrients will be inside.

As well as tasting good, you'll be left feeling good by giving the local economy a helping hand.

Previous research on spending showed that for every pound spent at a small or medium sized business, 63p of it stayed within the local economy.

If you shop at a large business, only 40p stays in the local area- which doesn't help to build and maintain a thriving network of local businesses. If this wasn't enough, supporting brand new businesses helps foster brand new talent- the entrepreneurs starting out today could grow to become some of the country's most successful business owners of tomorrow.

Supporting local businesses helps build a strong local community – shop local and secure Haverhill's future growth.

Hospital ready to treat poorly teddy bears

A SPECIAL hospital is being set up to treat sick teddy bears in Haverhill on Saturday.

The 'hospital', in Queen Street, will be open between 9am and 5pm and is part of a weekend of activities in the town, including a world village market, craft fair and Easter egg hunt.

Shoppers visiting the town will be able to indulge in cuisines from around the world.

The market in Queen Street will run on both Friday and Saturday letting residents take a culinary adventure around the globe.

On offer will be firm favourites like pizza, artisan fudge, flavoured sausages, chilli sauces and for man's best friend – gourmet dog biscuits.

The first Haverhill world market took place last Easter and was so popular it returned for the Christmas market. Stalls will be open from 9am to 5pm each day.

Saturday will also see a craft and gift market on the market square from 9am to 3pm with stalls selling textiles, cakes, jams, cards and more.

Market development officer for St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Sharon Fairweather, said: "Both the world village market and our craft and gift markets have proven very popular in the past and there will be plenty of exciting flavours and interesting crafts as well as a chance for youngsters to win a prize following our treasure trail.

The treasure trail will take place on the Saturday.

The regular market stall holders will also be trading on both days.

CRIME

Pensioner on way to church has bag stolen

AN elderly woman was shoved to the ground and had her handbag stolen while she was on her way to church.

The woman was walking along Camps Road at around 9.20am on Sunday, on her way to St Mary's Church, Haverhill. A man walking towards her pushed her to the pavement and stole her light coloured handbag.

The suspect, believed to be in his 20s, then fled along the alleyway of Lower Down Slade, leading to Down's Crescent.

As a precaution the victim was taken to Addenbrooke's for treatment for bruising and a suspected fracture.

Police described the man as having a tanned complexion, aged in his 20s, 5ft 8in tall, of slim/light build, with a dark beard and moustache.

He was also wearing a hooded top and beanie hat.

Any witnesses to the incident are asked to contact Bury St Edmunds CID on 101 quoting reference 26508/17, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

POLICE

Force celebrates 50th year of police history

SAMAR MAGUIRE

@SamarMaguireCN

SUFFOLK Constabulary celebrated 50 years of policing on Sunday.

Retired and serving police and their families were among those at the celebration at the force headquarters at Martlesham.

The occasion marked the merging of three police forces: East Suffolk Police, West Suffolk Constabulary and Ipswich Borough Police in 1967.

Tim Passmore, Suffolk's crime commissioner, said: "Policing has changed so much since the three forces amalgamated and today served as a timely reminder of just how far Suffolk police has come. I hope everyone involved thoroughly enjoyed the day – we should all be immensely proud of our constabulary."

The event was attended by retired and serving police and special officers, police cadets, public service students – as well as the High Sheriff of Suffolk, William Kendall, and the Lord Lieutenant of Suffolk, Lady Clare Euston.

Visitors were able to dress up in uniforms, past and present, and wear "beer goggles" to experience how reactions deteriorate while under the influence.

Crime scene investigators solved crime scenes before being fingerprinted, and there were exercises to test responses to 999 calls.

There was also an exhibit at the constabulary museum, which included seized weapons and photographs dating as far back as 1850.

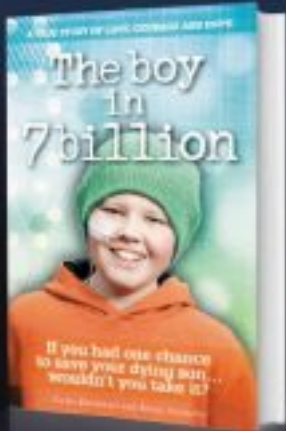

Visitors were also treated with performances from the Suffolk Constabulary male voice choir, whose members include all ranks of serving and retired police officers.

A separate ceremony was held to recognise past and present officers and staff and a wreath was laid to pay respects to those who had died.

If you had one chance to save your dying son, wouldn't you take it?

A true story of courage, love, fear and extraordinary resilience.

THE DEAD SEA SPA

HILTON has made its debut at the lowest point on Earth. The 285-room Hilton Dead Sea Resort and Spa is the firm's first site in Jordan and features large terraces overlooking the salty water from its eastern bank and a 'floating' swimming pool.

It also has seven dining areas and a 24-hour fitness centre. Rooms start at £130 a night. A Hampton by Hilton hotel has also opened in central Dundee.

Rates for the 105 rooms start at £76 a night with breakfast and wi-fi included in the price. See hilton.com, and hamptonbyhilton.com for details.

NEW DESTINATIONS REVEALED

NEW destinations for summer 2018 have been launched by Thomas Cook.

Highlights include the Olympus Riviera on the Greek mainland south of Thessaloniki, Golden Sands on Bulgaria's Black Sea coast, Spain's Costa Brava and the Portuguese island of Madeira.

Seven new Thomas Cook own-brand hotels will be on offer along with 17 new flight routes on Thomas Cook airlines, with options from regional airports being increased.

See thomascCook.com

CHOCOLATE HEAVEN

TAKE a chocolate-flavoured history lesson as part of the York Chocolate Festival this Easter weekend.

Head to York Castle for a tour of all things sweet and watch a demonstration on how to make Easter eggs. If you've still got sugar cravings there will be a market filled with goodies including handmade chocolates, crepes and pies flavoured with chocolate.

Nearby Paradise Lakeside Lodges offers open plan camping pods which include a double bed, a wet room, a kitchen area and a sofa bed that sleeps two children.

A three-night short break for four people starting April 14 costs £245. Visit hoseasons.co.uk or call 0345 498 6130 to book.

far from the tourist traps

WILD
AT ART

THE breathtaking Palacio da Lousa has not always been a boutique hotel, but it has a long history of dealing with unexpected guests.

Back in March 1811, the Marechal Messena, commander of the Napoleonic troops, was looking forward to a fine dinner at the manor in Lousa.

But he suffered a sudden loss of appetite after hearing of the French army's defeat by the combined English and Portuguese forces at the Battle of Foz de Arouce.

Forget the food. He promptly fled. The Duke of Wellington, the winner in the fight, rode into Lousa and sat down to enjoy his vanquished foe's meal.

It is a tale that's still fondly recounted at the Palacio. It doesn't take an army to secure a reservation in its dining hall nowadays, a phone call will generally do.

While there, it is worth tearing your eyes away from the food, though, to enjoy the splendour of the surroundings of the 18th century building, the former home of the Viscondessa do Espinhal, a famous benefactress of the town.

In the evening, when the mercury has been hitting 30°C, the lure of the terrace outside, with its views of the hotel's terraced gardens and the mountains beyond, is hard to resist, especially with a glass of one of the many fine, locally produced wines in hand.

It is in those mountains that tourists can find a very different type of accommodation. Lousa serves as gateway to the 26 Schist Villages. These micro-communities date back to the 16th century and are named after the stone the houses and pathways are built from.

They cluster in the Serra above Lousa and were originally homes for the poorer people of the region, who relied on the natural grazing there for their livestock.

It was a hard life, isolated and lacking in amenities. By the middle of the last century, the younger generations were abandoning the villages in favour of the modern comforts and better job prospects elsewhere.

Ironically, it was isolation that brought people back to the Schist Villages in the 1960s, as hippies looked for somewhere they could drop off the map. Since the late 1980s and early 1990s, there has been a concerted effort to bring life back to these ghost villages, to repair the crumbling homes using traditional techniques, and to rehabilitate the communities.

They have become a network where tourists seeking an alternative to swimming pools and sun loungers can come and stay, cosying into the rebuilt houses, now fully supplied with electricity and internet connections.

Surrounded by nature, the villages offer countless opportunities for hiking, mountain biking or trail running through the Serra, rafting or canoeing on the rivers, even paragliding from the highest peaks.

In the villages large enough to support a store, local crafts and produce are sold, including dark honey and Talasnicos, a type of cake peculiar to the region made from chestnuts, almonds and honey.

The international artistic community discovered the appeal of the Schists far earlier than adventurous holidaymakers. Kerstin Thomas, a German student attending the University of Coimbra in Central Portugal, came to the village of Cerdeira back in 1988. A wood carver, she was looking for somewhere to practise her art, but also wanted to save the buildings she found before they crumbled.

Only intending to stay for a short while, she has instead spent a lifetime at Cerdeira. For the past 11 years she has run the Elementos A Solta (Art Meets Nature) – a four-day programme of courses, workshops and demonstrations that takes over the whole village, and attracts around 1,000 visitors. The festival is

NEED TO KNOW

■ ALISON JONES flew to Portugal with Monarch Airlines, who operate year-round flights to Lisbon from Birmingham, London Gatwick and Manchester airports, with fares from as little as £27 (one-way) depending on season. kept deliberately intimate to suit the surroundings.

Even outside this weekend of concentrated creativity, there are opportunities to visit and learn from guest artists in residence. A Japanese master ceramicist has even built his own kiln there so he can come back to give classes.

Grouped together with the Schist Villages are central Portugal's other great secret, the praias fluviais (river beaches). With the coast an hour's drive away, they are a delightful alternative place to cool down on a searing hot day.

They range from watering holes that are literally off a beaten track, with nothing more than a rope tied to a tree by way of an amenity, to large stretches of river complete with changing rooms, space for water sports and even lifeguards.

One to seek out is the River Beach that lies beneath the ancient ramparts of the Castelo da Lousã. The crystal-clear waters are overlooked by the Restaurante O Burgo, definitely worth booking a table at to enjoy food prepared using the bounty of the region, including wild boar, rabbit, deer and old goat marinated in red wine.

This is an area of Portugal rich in history, heritage, arts and culture.

The crowds head for the beaches, yacht marinas, golf courses, villas and bars of the Algarve – and that's fine if that's your thing.

Tell you what, let's keep the hidden Portugal secret a while longer. I won't tell if you don't...

GOING STRONG: The Temperance Seven on Wednesday, April 12

Q: WHY does it take pirates so long to learn the alphabet?

A: Because they spend years at C.

Q: How much did the pirate pay for his piercings?

A: A buck-an-ear.

Q: Why did nobody want to play cards with the pirate?

A: Because he was standing on the deck.

The astute among you will not be surprised when you hear that the Easter panto this year is Treasure Island and the Caribbean Pirates. Join Jim Hawkins on his quest to find the buried treasure and rescue the island princess from the terrible Blackbeard on Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8.

■ Later on in the Easter holidays (Tuesday, April 11, 11am) the arts centre has a treat from Norwich Puppet Theatre, The Tinderbox.

Based on the classic fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen, it is the story of a soldier who acquires a magic tinderbox capable of summoning three powerful dogs to do his bidding. The story of bravery and love is told with puppetry, animation and music.

■ It's the Grand Diamond Jubilee Tour for The Temperance Seven on Wednesday, April 12. Who could have predicted that a band that was top of the charts 50 years ago would still be around today? The T7 are still going strong with a repertoire of jazz classics, original compositions and novelty numbers.

■ Get ready to boo from the bottom of your boots as the baddies swagger their way into the ring with LDN Wrestling. Those baddies will be seeking to grind the goodies into oblivion (so to speak – it's all done in the best panto style) on Thursday, April 13, at 7.30pm.

■ There's more Easter Holidays entertainment at the cinema: crooning animals take centre stage on Thursday, April 13, at 10.30am with Sing (U), the story of an animal talent contest.

Gravel voiced Will Arnett is the Lego-style superhero in The Lego Batman Movie (U) on Thursday, April 6, (and Monday, April 10 at 10.30am) He maybe not quite as flexible as the flesh and blood version, and quite an unrealistic shade of yellow, but he is no less heroic.

The Reel Culture film for April is Toni Erdmann (15). If you think your parents are/were embarrassing, thank all the gods available that Toni/Winfried isn't your dad. The cringe-o-meter may explode but it is also reviewed as one of best comedies in recent years, as well as being an intelligent and poignant study of family relations. This German film with English subtitles is on Monday, April 10, at 7.30pm.

■ Without three gifted mathematicians NASA might not have put its first man into space in 1961. The three brilliant African-American women in question, Katherine Johnson, Dorothy Vaughan and Mary Jackson, may have been the brains behind one of the greatest operations in history but they also had to contend with racial segregation and prejudice. Find out more with Hidden Figures on Tuesday, April 11, at 7.30pm.

■ Coming up in the not too distant future, the arts centre has fingerstyle guitar with Jon Hart and Daryl Kellie in Set Adrift (Friday, April 21), Haverhill Silver Band (Sunday, April 23) and the Haverhill Beer Weekend on Friday, April 28, to Sunday, April 30.

Friday, April 7, 3pm/6pm, Saturday, April 8, 11am/3pm Treasure Island and the Caribbean Pirates

WARM WELCOME: The Corn Exchange is the place to be for this year's Property & Homes Show

ALISTAIR RYDER

Interested in the best property Cambridge has to offer? Then you should definitely head to the Cambridge Property & Home show, in association with Countryside Properties, on Wednesday, May 3 from 10am-6pm.

Formerly known as the Cambridge Property Exhibition, this year the event will be bigger and better than ever, with visitors getting the opportunity to meet a wide range of experts in all areas of property.

If you are buying or selling a property, or are in the property industry, this is a must-visit event.

With different exhibits aimed at everybody from first-time buyers to homeowners well established on the property ladder, as well as those in the property industry itself, this is Cambridge's leading property event.

In only its third year, the Property & Home Show has already grown to become the largest event of its kind in the city and is unquestionably the highlight of the property calendar.

Head down to the Cambridge Property & Home Show on Wednesday, May 3, from 10am-6pm at the Cambridge Corn Exchange. Entrance is free.

For more information on the Property & Home Show 2017, visit cambridge-news.co.uk/news/property.

The all-new Nissan Micra – the revolution has begun

THERE is only one word to describe the all-new Nissan Micra – revolutionary. Now in its fifth generation, this new model is a massive progression from the one it is replacing, and from the trio of highly successful superminis which date back to the Micra's debut in Europe in 1983.

The new Micra is longer, wider and lower than ever before. The car has been repositioned at the very heart of the ultra-competitive European B-hatchback segment.

Conceived, designed and engineered with those customers' requirements at the top of the agenda, Nissan has a clear ambition for the new Micra; it should re-establish itself inside the top 10 sellers in the segment, and compete head-to-head with the best and most popular in the class. Benchmarked against key rivals, Nissan believes the new Micra meets and exceeds its targets.

Key to its appeal is the car's athletic and expressive exterior design, which moves the Micra name plate in a daring new direction. The contemporary look and premium feel continues inside, with a high-quality cabin that boasts two-tone soft-touch materials as standard across the range. Thanks to outstanding packaging, the five-door-only body shell boasts best-in-class ergonomics for front seat occupants, with no compromise to rear passenger space. The boot is big enough to easily cater for customers' needs.

The Micra is also a technology leader, with a number of 'in-control' features – the sort usually associated with more expensive models – now available for the first time. Not only are they new to the Micra, they're new to the segment. These include Intelligent Lane Intervention, a safety system which gently corrects the Micra back on to the right path should it be required.

Nissan's acclaimed Intelligent Around View Monitor camera system – as seen on the Qashqai and Juke crossovers – is also available on the Micra for the first time. These and other technologies are a clear demonstration of Nissan Intelligent Mobility, the brand's vision for a zero emissions and zero fatalities future.

For music fans, a highlight of the new Micra will be the BOSE Personal audio system. Unique to the B-hatchback segment, advanced speakers built into the driver's head rest put the driver at the heart of the listening experience.

The Micra is also a fantastic car to drive, with a dynamic performance that is the perfect balance between agility, excitement and the secure feeling that comes with confident and predictable handling.

The car is available with three downsized engines – two petrol and one diesel – all linked to a five-speed manual gearbox. Nissan's familiar five grades of Visia, Visia+, Acenta, N-Connecta and Tekna all feature a high level of standard specification.

Customers' desires to express their own personalities and design tastes through the new Micra will be another part of its appeal. The car will be available with a wide range of personalisation options, modifying the exterior and interior with premium components in a variety of stylish and contemporary colours.

New App to click for replacement car after accident

A NEW smartphone App will allow drivers involved in the UK's two million-plus car park prangs, roundabout bumps and T-junction crashes recorded every year to get help at the touch of a button.

The customer-first Accident Aftercare service, which provides invaluable support from replacement vehicles to liaising with insurers and body repairers, has been launched by car repair and servicing price comparison website MyCarNeedsA.com

As well as providing an immediate 'SOS' function to quickly access a replacement vehicle while the damaged car is repaired, the new App provides additional convenience to the motorist by showing the nearest fuel station or coffee stop, the ability to 'pin' their parking location and log car journeys.

Following an accident, drivers can click on the 'SOS' button via the App or enter the 'one-call' number which quickly connects to an expert who will manage the process – from insurer to repairer – completely free of charge. The service is available to all motorists – regardless of fault.

Brexit deal must avoid ferry port chaos – says RHA

AS THE Prime Minister triggers Article 50, Richard Burnett, chief executive of the Road Haulage Association, has made a plea for the needs of the trucking industry to be centre stage in Brexit negotiations.

“The trucking industry is the lifeblood of the UK economy. We literally deliver our economy, with 85 per cent of everything we eat, drink, wear or build with travelling by truck.

“For the good of the UK economy the Government must achieve a Brexit outcome that guarantees frictionless movements through ports and across borders, a level playing field for UK truckers to compete with those based on the continent, and a continuing ability to recruit foreign drivers.

“Our ferry ports, and the border in Ireland, need to have arrangements that allow trucks to move freely away from border areas. Simply using current customs practices and applying them to UK/EU traffic risks delays of biblical proportions which would strangle growth and hurt the entire economy. We risk the chaos of Operation Stack becoming the norm and being replicated on the approach to every ferry port in Britain.”

Mr Burnett added: “The Government and Customs need to appreciate the scale of the problem. They need to work with creativity, with industry partners and with authorities in the EU to ensure we maintain our border effectively while allowing trade to move freely.

Leaving the EU poses a significant risk to supply chains that deal with exports and imports by road if new customs controls are inappropriately imposed at border points.

The RHA has three priorities that need to become the Government's priorities during negotiations:

- Seamless customs through ports and borders (so that supply chains have a high level of reliability).

- Unimpeded access for international road haulage operators in the UK and the EU (that is full access for UK and EU road operators transporting goods to, from and through the UK and the EU).

- A system that allows lorry drivers to be recruited from outside the UK (including retaining current drivers from the EU, which we estimate to number 60,000).

An electric fleet for Harrods

MORE than 100 years after the legendary London department store first added an electric van to its fleet, Harrods is once again returning to EV technology, with the addition of the 100 per cent electric Nissan e-NV200 delivery van.

The department store is the latest European business to add a zero emission Nissan e-NV200 to its fleet, with more than 27,000 Nissan electric vehicles sold to businesses across Europe so far.

Nissan officially handed over the electric van to Harrods outside its Knightsbridge store this week.

The Nissan e-NV200 has been specially adapted to perfectly fit Harrods' delivery needs. The load space of the van has been fully refrigerated and shelving units added to allow for fresh groceries to be transported in optimum condition. The exterior has also been wrapped in the traditional green and gold Harrods livery to make it recognisable as it travels around the city.

The e-NV200 has a range of up to 106 miles on a single charge, which means it is easily capable of making up to 50 deliveries per week covering an average distance of 150 miles in the London area with Harrods only needing to charge it once a week.

With an average running cost of as little as 2p per mile, the e-NV200 offers an alternative practical solution which will have a positive effect on city-centre air quality.

In 1919, the store used solid-

MOVING ON: One hundred years after introducing electric deliver vans, Harrods has taken delivery of a new electric fleet from Nissan tyred American Walker electric vans, later building its own fleet of 60 electric vehicles to deliver around London. As petrol engines became more popular, the electric vans were slowly phased out. However with the introduction and development of new infrastructure and technology, Nissan has enabled Harrods to have an all-electric van on its fleet once again.

Media sales director at Harrods Guy Cheston said: “We have a strong heritage in developing innovative technology, both in-store and out, and Harrods was one of the first companies in the UK to develop an all-electric commercial fleet, introducing our first electric vehicle over 100 years ago. Electric technology has developed rapidly since our old fleet was in operation, and is now a far more sustainable transport solution.”

As a pioneer of the EV market since 2010, Nissan has continued to provide Intelligent Mobility solutions for the masses and has sold more than 290,000 EVs globally. Harrods joins more than 900 companies worldwide who have trusted Nissan to help them towards a more sustainable future.

Named Europe's best-selling electric van in 2016, the e-NV200 is part of Nissan's popular zero emission range, combining the best elements of two multi-award winning vehicles – the Nissan LEAF and Nissan NV200. It provides a zero emission light commercial vehicle solution, offering low vehicle running costs from as little as 2p per mile and a range of up to 106 miles on a single charge. This makes it the perfect transportation option for businesses big and small, as not only does it contribute to reducing a company's carbon footprint, it is practical, reliable and cost-effective.

There's added pulling power from the new Musso

KOREAN car maker SsangYong has upped the power on its Musso pickup to give it the capability to haul up to 3.5 tonne which makes it even more capable of towing a trailer, horsebox or boat.

The previous engine offered haulage capacity of up to three tonne and the new 2.2-litre turbo-diesel power unit delivers even more power.

The Musso features a newly developed Euro 6 turbo-diesel engine to meet the demand for a more powerful performance and lower CO2 emissions of 186g/km.

Maximum power is now 178bhp - up from 175bhp - and torque remains at 400Nm, coming on stream from a low of 1,400rpm and maintained up to 2,800rpm.

It is fitted with multi-link rear suspension and progressive rear coil springs which gives a relaxed and comfortable car-like ride, while also carrying over a tonne weight on its load deck.

“This is great for customers looking for a value for money pick-up and who need to tow a heavy trailer,” says Paul Williams, chief executive of SsangYong Motor UK.

“With one of the most powerful engines in its class, a refined automatic gearbox and car-like ride – thanks to its multilink rear suspension, Musso sales have taken off since its launch last autumn.

There are two models in the range. The SE includes a new-look front grille and dashboard, as well as silver finish 18-inch alloy wheels and hard wearing seat upholstery. It is priced from £16,395 excluding VAT.

The EX model is distinguished by black 18-inch alloy wheels, roof rails, front LED daytime running lights, leather with heated front seats, power operated driver's seat, automatic air conditioning, automatic headlights, rain sensing wipers, seven-inch touchscreen, RDS radio with iPod and Bluetooth.

The EX with manual transmission is priced at £18,395 ex VAT, and with a six-speed Aisin automatic £19,395 ex VAT.

Lead role for Barker

RACE ACE: Ben Barker in action in last year's World Endurance Championship
Picture: Adrenal Media

BEN Barker is to return for a second year with the Gulf Racing team for the 2017 World Endurance Championship.

The Hunton driver made his WEC debut with the Gulf team in the GTE-Am category last year and impressed with his pace in the Porsche 911 RSR throughout the series, including at the Le Mans 24 Hours.

Barker, who opened his season at the Bathurst 12 Hours, will be the lead driver for the team, alongside team owner Mike Wainwright and Australian Nick Foster.

"It's great to know that I'll be racing in a high-profile series in 2017," said Barker. "I'm excited to be leading the team and rejoining

Mike, who has really fostered my sportscar ambitions in recent seasons.

"The WEC is a 'must-do' series at this stage in my career and thanks to the ongoing support of my personal sponsors – Montaplast, Sacred and CARS – re-signing with Gulf ensures the momentum of 2016 will keep rolling on for another year."

The WEC gets under way with the Six Hours of Silverstone on April 16.

Cowling: Defensive errors to blame for defeat to Jockeys

BEN Cowling said defensive errors were mostly to blame as Haverhill Rovers suffered a 5-3 defeat at Newmarket Town in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Rovers made a bright start but Austen Diaper put the Jockeys in front after 18 minutes when he headed home Jamie Thurlbourne's cross.

But the visitors responded well and drew level with a goal from Rafael Wozniak, his first for the club, after good work by Jordan Palmer.

Rovers thought they had gone ahead moments later when Ben Bradley shrugged off a foul and fired home, but the referee's whistle had gone and he awarded Rovers a free kick which came to nothing.

Football

Newmarket then went 2-1 up on 30 minutes when Deakin Napier scored with a header following a free kick.

Luke Haines gave Rovers hope just before half time when he scored from outside the penalty area, and only some good saves from the Newmarket keeper prevented the visitors from taking the lead as Haines and Palmer both threatened to score.

However, it took just 60 seconds of the second half for Newmarket to extend their lead, Thurlbourne rifling the ball home from 30 yards.

The hosts extended their lead in controversial circumstances when the referee waved play on after what appeared to be a foul on Bradley. Haverhill players expected a free kick but Diaper went on to score and make it 5-2.

Rovers' Owen Longley had a goal ruled out for offside 20 minutes from time but the visitors did manage to pull a goal back five minutes from time when Bradley curled the ball home from 25 yards.

Manager Cowling said: "It was an excellent game. On Newmarket's 3G pitch both sides were able to get the ball down and play football in the right way.

"It was some of the best football we've played for a long time. But ultimately we didn't defend well enough. We conceded five goals and if you score three away from home you expect to get something from the game.

"The pleasing thing was the way we played. After we went 5-2 down we didn't let our heads drop and got a goal back."

Haverhill Borough kept up their title challenge in the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division with a 2-0 win at home to Diss Town.

After a goalless first half, Craig Pruden header Boro in front in the 50th minute. Ryan Swallow doubled the lead fewer than 10 minutes later, and that was how it stayed until the final whistle.

Boro now trail leaders Stowmarket by one point having one played one game more.
